

University of Georgia Ethics and Compliance Reporting System

DOING
WHAT'S RIGHT

The University of Georgia wants you to help make it an ethical, efficient and effective environment for work, study and service to the people we serve.

The University of Georgia wants you to report misconduct and will protect you from retaliation.

What You Can Report:

Any activity by the University of Georgia or a University of Georgia employee that violates Board of Regents and/or University of Georgia policy, any state or federal law, or involves waste of resources or of misconduct.

Where to Report:

- Your supervisor, academic advisor (or other administrator within your unit), who will take appropriate action.
- The office and/or unit charged with the responsibility for ensuring compliance with a specific policy.
- Directly to:
 - Equal Opportunity Office (706) 542-7912
 - Human Resources (706) 542-2621
 - Office of Legal Affairs (706) 542-0006
 - Controller's Office (706) 542-6860
 - Internal Auditing Division (706) 542-1494
 - Research Integrity Office (706) 542-5939
 - University Hotline 1-877-516-3467(The hotline is independently operated and is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week)
- All reports of a violation of the University's non-discrimination and anti-harassment policy should be reported to the Equal Opportunity Office for investigation in keeping with that specific policy.
- Academic matters/appeals should be handled through the University's academic appeal procedures.

Protection from Retaliation:

It is important for you to know that retaliation for voicing concerns is a violation of University policy and all complaints of retaliation should be reported to the Equal Opportunity Office.
